Probers Rip Army Court Martial Setup

EVERY ROAD BUT THE RIGHT ONE

SURVEY SHOWS 142 SOLDIERS SENT TO DEATH

All Except One Executed on Murder or Rape Charges; Revision Urged.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 20 — Court martial sentences sent 142 soldiers to their deaths during the war years and ensuing months, a house military sub-committee disclosed today in recommending an extensive overhaul for the Army's system of justice.

The group reported that between Dec. 7, 1941 and Feb 22, 1946, 72 men were executed for murder, 51 for rape, 18 for murder and rape, and one for desertion.

The findings were set forth in a 23,000-word document sharply critical of what the subcommittee called the injustices, the extreme severity of sentences and the partiality resulting from the existing court martial system.

The full military committee has temporarily tabled the subcommittee's report at the war department's request, but will consider it next month. Army witnesses probably will be heard before the full committee takes any formal action.

List of Criticisms

The subcommittee made the following criticism comments and recommendations in the course of its report.

"The court martial system is regarded by most professional officers as a means of enforcing discipline . (but) discipline * * * must not be named as cloak to cover arbitrariness and injustice."

"There is a widespread belief among intelligent soldiers that * * * not so much a qualified as a weak and compliant court has been the objective."

"Bringing charges of rape against American soldiers became a sort of racket among some portions of the populace in the European theater, and it is believed that numerous convictions of innocent soldiers took place * * * in the interest of discipline in general or of maintaining the good name of the Army among liberated or conquered people."

"It is known that some of the most striking miscarriages of justice have taken place abroad * * *."

"An enlisted man has the right to bring charges against a commissioned officer. This is largely a paper provision. An officer of long experience * * * has said that * * * when it did happen the enlisted man always found himself court-martialed or transferred."

Not Vice Versa

"It is a very grave offense for an enlisted man to strike an officer or even a noncommissioned officer. It is not a specific offense under any article of war for an officer to assault an enlisted man * * *."

Among the subcommittee's recommendations were these:

Chinese Leaders Flee Harbin To Escape Communist Troops

By The Associated Press

Chinese government officials in Harbin, frightened at the prospect of capture by Communist forces as fate that presumably befell their fellows in Changchun, fled by plane today to government-controlled Mukden.

Simultaneously an official spokesman in Chungking conceded that the Communists could take Harbin without a struggle after Russian troops withdraw from that important North Manchuria city next Friday. He said the government has no troops there. The Communists dominate North Manchuria.

He also made the startling acknowledgement that national troops have not captured Szepingkai—despite previous claims and belatedly reported the fall of Changchun, the capital of Manchuria.

Called "Very Grave"

In fact, said the spokesman, the central Manchuria situation "is very grave" from the government viewpoint.

He gave this explanation of the battle for Szepingkai, important railroad center about halfway between government - controlled Mukden and Changchun.

A vanguard of the government's new First Army entered Szepingkai, met strong communist resistance and halted to consolidate its forces.

An official dispatch published in Peiping said 50 Government officials had been taken prisoner in Szepingkai by the Communists.

It was the withdrawal of Russia's last occupation troops from Changchun last Sunday midnight that precipitated the Communists' successful onslaught on the Manchurian capital.

The Communists announced today they would occupy Harbin next Wednesday when the Russians withdraw "in a state of civil war still prevails" there.

Harbin, 150 air miles north of Changchun, is the key communications center for north Manchuria.

AP Man Learns Story

Associated Press Correspondent Spencer Davis learned of the flight of Harbin officials to government-controlled Mukden, 325 air miles to the South, at Sino-American truce headquarters in Peiping.

He said the Harbin officials fled "for reasons of environment"—fear of a repitition of Changchun's violence.

Some Peiping sources told Davis they doubted that a conflict such as Changchun's would follow the Soviet evacuation explaining that the Harbin mayor never had been supported by the Chinese government.

Davis said Sino-American headquarters had no word concerning seven Americans — five correspondents and two Army men—who went to Changchun last week to observe the Russian withdrawal. Headquarters assumed that Chinese government officials in Changchun were taken into custody by the Communists.

POPE HITS DIVORCE

By The Associated Press

VATICAN CITY, April 20—Pope Pius XII said today that "divorce, godless schools and unbridled books and licentious entertainment" were threats to Christian morality. The pontiff made the statement at a reception of 200 Italian Catholic Action leaders, at which he deplored that "much youth is rotten and corrupt" and expressed pity for "millions of children exposed to famine."

Lewis Confers with President on Coal Peace

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 20—Secretary of Labor Schwellenbach took John L. Lewis, head of the striking soft coal miners, to the White House today to confer with President Truman.

The White House said the 15-minute conference had "no conclusive result."

This development in government efforts to get contract negotiations resumed in the stalemated soft coal situation was unrevealed.

The White House calling list had merely carried a notation that Schwellenbach had an appointment to see Mr. Truman at noon.

However, both men—the labor secretary and the United Mine Worker boss—showed up at that time and immediately went into the President's office.

Since the strike by AFL United Mine Workers on April 1 an estimated 500,000 workers in related industries have been made idle, with other thousands expected to be laid off if the walkout continues.

In New York Benjamin F. Fairless, president of the U. S. Steel Corp., said that only an early end to the coal strike could prevent "inevitable" shutdown of all the company's steel-making operations.

As operations continued to slump in steel mills and automobile plants because of the coal dispute, Schwellenbach went ahead with plans for separate meetings early next week with operators and with John L. Lewis, UMW president.

Meetings will be resumed in Pittsburgh Monday in attempts to settle the country's second largest strike, involving 75,000 CIO electrical workers at Westinghouse Electric Co. plants.

CALLS FOR NEW CUTS IN FOOD TO AID WORLD

Flour Is Slashed 25 Per Cent: Truman Says Threat Is Greatest in History.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 20—The United States opened an intensive new attack on the global food crisis today, ordering a 25 per cent slash in domestic flour consumption and calling for even more vigorous self-rationing of food in American homes.

The emergency, President Truman said, has become so acute that this country's already low wheat reserves are going to be cut even further to furnish famine relief.

Mr. Truman somberly told the nation it confronted "the greatest threat of mass starvation in the history of mankind."

"Millions will surely die unless we eat less," he said in a plea to "the warm heart of America" for greater voluntary food conservation by the people.

Effective Tomorrow

The flour consumption cut was a direct step toward helping the country supply famished overseas areas with a million tons of wheat monthly—the target set by the President for the next three months. The reduction order is effective at midnight tomorrow and will continue in effect until June 30.

Agriculture department officials estimated the flour cut will yield the equivalent of 25,000,000 bushels of wheat in the period.

Mr. Truman summoned the nation to redoubled famine relief efforts in a nationwide all-network radio broadcast last night. He was joined on the program by former President Herbert Hoover, speaking from Egypt, UNRRA Director General Fiorello La Guardia and Secretary of Agriculture Anderson.

It was Anderson who announced the flour reduction order as part of a six-point administration program to provide more food for export.

Other Developments

Other points:

1—A government bonus to farmers of 30 cents a bushel for wheat delivered up to May 25—an inducement aimed at siphoning upwards of 180,000,000 bushels of wheat from farm storage.

2—A like bonus per bushel to farmers for 50,000,000 bushels of corn, to be resold to feeders and processors in urgent need.

3—A government offer to buy an unlimited amount of oatmeal for starvation areas.

4—A 25 per cent cut in the amount of wheat used by food manufacturers in products for domestic human consumption.

5—A reduction in the wheat inventories of millers and food manufacturers to not more than 21 days.

La Guardia appealed "desperately" to farmers to supply the needed wheat fast for shipment to lands where "people are dying."

Former President Hoover, recommending an export target of 1,100,000 tons of wheat monthly, recommended that the government resort to wartime measures providing for mandatory set-asides of food.

Hoover reported on the dire food situation he has found in Europe and the Middle East on his survey inspection trip undertaken at Mr. Truman's request. Hoover is honorary chairman of the famine emergency committee.

U. S. Not Alone

The United States, he said, will have to shoulder a big part of the load in providing relief supplies, but he called upon Britain, Russia and Latin American nations to do their full share.

He termed the crisis unique because it has a "definite terminal date—the arrival of the next harvest."

"If every source of supplies will do its utmost," he continued, "we can pull the world through this most dangerous crisis. * * *

"The burden will be heavy up...

British Approve of U. S. Cut Soon

By The Associated Press

LONDON, April 20 — Britain was expected today to welcome President Truman's announcement of a cut in cereals consumption, but official reaction was lacking today because of the long Easter weekend.

Sources close to No. 10 Downing street said the cabinet was keeping the world food situation under "constant review," and next week probably would examine the suggestion of former President Hoover, made in Cairo, that Britain [illegible]

Ohio Firm Sues 5 OPA Chiefs

Charges Agents Used Concern as "Guinea Pig" To Set Up Price Controls.

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, April 20—A federal court suit was on file today charging that five OPA officials overstepped their authority by using the Red Rock Bottling Co. of Cleveland as a "guinea pig" in the establishment of price ceilings.

The civil action, filed by the bottling concern yesterday and declaring the accused officials "illegally harmed" the firm's business, named as defendants:

John Kessel OPA regional director; Herbert Fookes district director; Harold C. Leopold, a district price specialist, Samuel Katz, district food enforcement attorney, and E. Vergon Smith.

The action charged that Leopold wrote certain distributors of the firm's ginger ale on Dec. 11, 1945 and declared the ceiling price on the beverage was 12 cents a bottle and anyone selling it at a higher price would be subject to penalty.

Neither the distributors nor the company had received notice of a hearing or proceeding at which the ceiling price was to be determined, the suit contended.

One distributor, the company said, called the OPA official and asked for an opportunity to be heard in support of a price of 15 cents a bottle. He was informed there was "nothing to discuss and...

Rain Threatens To Mar Easter Parade

Those persons in and around Marion who join in the Easter parade tomorrow may be forced to cover their new Easter apparel with raincoats, the Ohio weatherman forecast. The Associated Press report on Ohio's Easter weather was for increasing cloudiness with slowly rising temperature and probable showers late tomorrow afternoon.

The weather bureau in Washington reported "pleasant weather is in store for most of the nation on Easter Sunday." Temperatures will be about normal for the season, the weather bureau said, with mild temperatures enjoyed through most of the northern states. Winds will be gentle to moderate.

Easter sunrise services in the midwest may be threatened by light showers tomorrow but there is a "fair chance" showers will be over by Easter parade time, the Chicago weather bureau reports.

Temperatures throughout the midwest will be pleasant with readings hovering in the 60's and 70's. Generally fair weather is in store for most of the midwest tomorrow afternoon.

NEGRO MAID HELD IN TOLEDO SLAYING

By The Associated Press

TOLEDO, O., April 20 — Mrs. Nat Shulman, 47, wife of a Toledo business man, died here early today after being clubbed in a neighbor's yard last night.

Mrs. Shulman, formerly Miss Mary Bernstein, Lima, O., was found in an unconscious condition by her husband and friends near the side door of the home of Mrs. Lawrence Tarloff, a neighbor, and died in a hospital.

Ethel Burks, 16-year-old Negro maid in the Tarloff home, surrendered to police two hours after Mrs. Shulman was found.

Captain Ralph Murphy, head of the homicide squad, said the girl told him that she clubbed Mrs. Shulman with a lead pipe because "she hadn't liked her from the moment she saw her."

The Burks girl told police, Capt. Murphy said, that she lured Mrs. Shulman from her home shortly before 11 p. m. with a story that Mrs. Tarloff had baked a cake and wanted Mrs. Shulman to help her frost it and then struck her.

Surviving Mrs. Shulman are a daughter, Doris Jean, 15; a brother, Joseph A. Bernstein, New York, former Akron and Cleveland newspaper man, and sisters, Mrs. A. W. Steinberg, Toledo, and Mrs. Max Swerdlow, Columbus.

WASHINGTON, April 20—The Congressional Medal of Honor has been awarded Corp. Melvin Mayfield of Nashport, O., for saving two Filipino companies from possible annihilation, the war department announced today.

The award soon will be presented Mayfield for his successful assault on four enemy-held caves and his subsequent destruction of an observation post.

Crediting Mayfield with "gallant determination and heroic leadership" in the face of heavy enemy fire, the war department gave this description of the action:

UN HEADS FOR SECOND MONTH

Russia Slated for Rebuff on Iran Case; Probe of Franco Gains Strength.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, April 20—The United Nations security council begins its second month of deliberations next week with the prospect that Russia's demand for dismissal of the Iranian case will be rebuffed and that Franco Spain may be investigated by a council subcommittee.

The Iranian issue comes up first when the council meets Tuesday to review a report from its committee of experts on procedure, who told the council they were split, 8 to 3, over the Iranian case on lines identical with those around the council table.

Probe Gains Favor

An Australian proposal for appointment of a five-member subcommittee to conduct a four-week investigation of the Franco regime inside Spain gained strength with Poland, author of the charges against Spain, reported ready to back such an inquiry.

Russia, Poland and France were the minority dissenters in the experts' report which ruled that the council had authority to keep the Iranian case on its agenda as long as it desired, despite the fact that Iran has withdrawn her complaint against Russia.

United States senators in private conference with Secretary of State James F. Byrnes in Washington yesterday got the impression that Byrnes and other American policy-makers believed the UN secretary-general, Trygve Lie, overstepped his authority in suggesting early this week that the council's jurisdiction in any case ceased with the withdrawal of the complaint.

Hold Majority

The American and British leadership against Russia's demand for dropping the Iranian case was a clear majority of council votes to keep the matter on the agenda pending re-examination on May 6 of the status of Red army evacuations from Iran.

When Lie, in an unsolicited report last Tuesday, suggested that the council "may well be" unable legally to retain the Iranian case if experts from the nations represented on the council were consulted. Their report now apparently will have the effect of a majority recommendation to the council.

on the United States and we cannot do more. Europe and other countries must look to the other sources for the balance."

On Capitol Hill Americans were urged by Rep. Jenkins (R-Ohio) to set aside each Tuesday between now and July 1 as a wheatless day.

Jenkins, chairman of the Republican congressional food study committee, said in a statement he was suggesting the move in addition to all other conservation means of saving food for relief purposes.

He said he felt that "rationing would be impractical in the present emergency" and was confident that more could "be accomplished by the voluntary but coordinated action of individuals."

Low-Price Houses Up 65% Since '40, NHA Report Says

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 20—The cost of low-priced homes has jumped an average of 65.1 per cent since 1940, the National Housing Agency reported today, blaming real estate inflation.

Such dwellings — those which sold for $6,000 or less in 1940—have "skyrocketed" an average of 96.3 per cent in the Pacific coast states, the agency said in releasing findings of a survey completed a fortnight ago.

"Real estate inflation has hit all sections of the country," NHA said Ohio's rise for low priced homes was 52.2 per cent; medium homes 49.9; raw land 36.9; building lots 44.2.

The rise has been greater for small homes than those in the medium-price ($6,000 to $12,000) bracket, it was stated, and the increase has accelerated since VJ-day on all types of property—home, building lots and raw land.

Medium-priced homes have gone up 57 per cent, raw land has risen 60.1 per cent, and prepared building lots have gone up 61.8 per cent on the national average, the report said. It added that "inflation has occurred not only in a few overcrowded big cities, but in large and small cities alike."

DEMOCRACY WORKS

By The Associated Press

HAMILTON, Mont.—As in the old days, there was keen interest among Bitter Root Valley ranch folk in a district court trial of one rancher charged with grand larcency in the theft of cattle.

The courtroom was crowded long after midnight while the jury deliberated seven hours. Defendant, prosecutor, state's witness, clerk of court and Judge C. E. Comer played pinochle as they waited.

The jury filed in. The game broke up and the crowd stopped its chatter to hear the verdict—innocent.

"Democracy," commented the judge, as he watched the sleepy crowd head out on the long roads home.

Ohioan Sues OPA, Says Rights Violated

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, April 20 — A suit filed in U. S. federal court here by William Tieman, suburban grocer and meat dealer, asks an injunction against what he termed "summary proceedings of OPA price panel violating the plaintiff's constitutional rights."

The action filed yesterday, named John E. Robinson Jr., district OPA director, as defendant, and also petitioned the court to restrain the OPA from collecting a $100 fine a price panel levied against Tieman, who operates a store at Pleasant Ridge.

Milton J. Rappaport, OPA enforcement attorney, said there was "no such thing as a fine being levied by a local price control board," and added:

"Such boards or panels suggest a settlement if evidence warrants and any merchant may or may not settle on the basis suggested by the board. When a merchant fails to accept the settlement offered, the board sends the case to the district office which decides whether to file suit."

Tieman's petition declared he was summoned before the price panel of a local board "to discuss selling prices and methods" but on appearance "learned I had been charged with making sales in excess of maximum prices in the amount of 12 cents."

There was no "actual hearing on the merits of the case," the grocer's petition continued, before "I was ordered to leave the room until the price panel corroborated on the amount of the fine to be assessed."

Tieman declared in the court action he refused to pay the $100 fine imposed without advice of legal counsel, who later was refused a transcript of the record of the panel hearing.

FRENCH FACE CRISIS OVER CONSTITUTION

By The Associated Press

PARIS, April 20—The French cabinet faced a serious crisis today after approval 309-249 by the constituent assembly last night of a new leftist-sponsored constitution which would establish a powerful one-chamber legislature.

The constitution for the Fourth Republic was adopted over the objection of rightist parties, including strong Popular Republican Movement (MRP) and the Radical-Socialists. It will be submitted to the electorate at a national referendum May 5.

Observers said the assembly's action was almost certain to result in a bitter campaign over France's organic law and might split the coalition government at a cabinet meeting next Wednesday.

Some sources predicted that such a request might lead to the resignation of Foreign Minister Georges Bidault and other rightist members of the cabinet, now composed of Communists, Socialists and members of MRP.

The rightists asserted the proposed constitution granted excessive power to the single-house parliament. They insisted on a stronger chief executive, a second legislative chamber and a supreme court with powers comparable to those of the U. S. court. The MRP said a system of checks and balances was needed to avoid dictatorship.

The leftists asserted that unchecked power for the single legislative body guaranteed democracy.

FIGHTING CHANCE FOR OPA SEEN IN SENATE

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 20 — Senator LaFollette (Prog-Wis) today gave OPA a fighting chance for its life in the senate, but only if the price agency speedily corrects what he termed its mistakes.

Pointing out that OPA has a two-week breathing spell for this purpose before the senate takes up the legislation, LaFollette declared that the agency's past tardiness in instituting reforms was responsible for its present uncertain plight.

The Wisconsin senator, who said he wants to see OPA continued with some "reasonable" amendments, told a reporter he is convinced that the house vote ripping the lid off the agency's controls bespoke pent up anger at OPA slowness in adjusting individual errors.

He claimed there were hundreds of cases where warranted price relief had been unnecessarily delayed.

The Wisconsin senator predicted that unless some strong public reaction, senators interested in farm, meat, lumber and many other products will combine to force senate approval of a sharply curtailed measure similar to that which passed the house.

Senator Wherry of Nebraska, the Republican whip, served notice yesterday that he will make a fight to retain house-approved amendments, which he said were "all right in principle" but might need slight alterations.

MUSTER DAY HELD BY U.S.W.V. CAMP

Sen. Liggitt and Son Capt. Willis Liggitt Are Speakers.

Annual muster day services were held by Marion Camp No. 32, United Spanish War Veterans, at a meeting Friday night in the Legion Dugout with members of Betsy Ross Auxiliary as guests.

Guest speakers were Senator D. A. Liggitt and his son, Capt. Willis Liggitt, both of Belle Center, O. In his talk, Senator Liggitt gave a comparison of the patriotic achievements of the people today in building a better government, with those of the people of years ago. He explained how the country is growing today.

Capt. Liggitt, who served overseas in Africa, Italy, and in Germany, compared the conditions and facilities of the war with Spain and World War II. He described the modern medical treatments and told how medicines which were not available in the war with Spain saved many lives in this encounter. Capt. Liggitt also told how many supplies and the methods of getting them to the soldiers had greatly improved over the old methods. Capt. Liggitt is now on terminal leave.

James E. Messenger served as mustering officer, and T. E. Kinnear as master of ceremonies. A potluck supper for the camp and the auxiliary preceded the meeting.

Announcement was made of a general meeting of the veterans organizations who wish to participate in Memorial day services to be held May 3 at the Legion Dugout. Plans for the services will be started at this meeting and a chairman will be elected.

At a meeting of Betsy Ross Auxiliary in the afternoon at the Dugout, delegates were elected to attend the department convention to be held June 16-19 in Columbus. Delegates are Mrs. Dolly Anthony and Mrs. Bertha Ansley, and alternates are Mrs. Susie Wedertz and Mrs. Ellen Poland. Prayer and the Easter story by Mrs. Hattie Richards, chaplain, opened the meeting.

The charter was draped for the past department president, Mrs. Jennie Stroud of Sandusky, O. Mrs. Flossie Ooley, acting historian, read an article on the "Declaration of the War With Spain in 1898." Arrangements were made for a benefit card party to be held at the Dugout May 17. A social hour followed the meeting with the contest award going to Mrs. Pauline Platz.

Sergeant Gets Term in Prison Case

By The Associated Press

LONDON, April 20—A U. S. Army courtmartial today convicted Staff Sgt. James M. Jones of Muskogee, Okla., on three specifications charging simple assault on American Army prisoners at the Lichfield detention camp and sentenced him to six months at hard labor.

In addition to the six-month term, Jones was ordered to forfeit $18 a month of his Army pay during the period of his confinement.

The verdict acquitted Jones, who was a guard at Lichfield, on five charges of simple assault and assault with intent to do bodily harm.

The finding of the six-man court was announced after two and a half hours' deliberation by its president, Maj. Anthony Horn of Logansport, Ind.

Jones had told the court that prisoners marked with bruises from beatings by the guards were concealed whenever Army inspectors visited the camp.

Hitler's Birthday Once Nazi Holiday, Forgotten in Berlin

By LOUIS P. LOCHNER
Associated Press Writer

BERLIN, April 20 — All morning I accosted German residents of this battered capital, asking them what today stood for, and invariably I got a vacant stare.

I told them it was the 57th anniversary of the birth of Adolf Hitler. Most Berliners dismissed the information with a shrug.

"We ceased observing the day a year ago," a chauffeur said. "The battle of Berlin was then in full swing and only four days later the Russians marched in. I didn't see a single flag displayed a year ago in honor of the birthday. Everybody was too much occupied with the Russian advance to think about it."

In Hitler's heyday, April 20 was a holiday. All Nazis wore their uniforms. Copious libations were drunk to the fuehrer's health. Delegation after delegation, from the Reich cabinet down, poured into the chancellery to offer congratulations and costly gifts. There were great military parades.

Today nobody seemed any longer interested whether a certain unmarked mound in the chancellery garden contained the burned bones of the fuehrer.

Nobody so much as glanced at Hitler's huge desk, now just a piece of junk lying on a sandpile outside what once was his gigantic study.

County Unit of Cancer Society Carries on Active Program

Carrying on the work of prevention and cure for cancer in Marion and the surrounding community is the Marion County unit of the American Cancer society, organized two years ago under the sponsorship of the state organization. The local unit will share in the $25,000 for which the Marion Junior Chamber of Commerce is conducting a campaign this month. Distribution of the funds is as follows: 40 per cent to the national society, 10 per cent to the state and the remaining 50 per cent for the work in Marion county.

172 Receive Treatment

Since the clinic was opened in February 1945, 172 persons have received treatment, the records show. The Marion County unit was organized in the spring of 1945 with Mrs. H. K. Mouser appointed by the state organization to serve as captain. The unit's first step was to get the support of the Marion County Academy of Medicine, which was given wholeheartedly.

An organization meeting, which followed shortly afterwards, was attended by representatives of the city and county schools, Parent-Teacher association, Marion County Ministerial association, St. Mary Catholic church and Catholic societies and organizations, Seventh District Nurses Association, service clubs, Marion County Federation of Women's Clubs, senior and junior chamber of commerce groups, Red Cross, University Women, King's Daughters, city and county health departments, AFL and CIO organizations, newspaper and radio station, theaters, Academy of Medicine, and representatives from LaRue, Green Camp, Caledonia, Waldo and Prospect. At this meeting the speaker was Mrs. Caroline Curtiss of Cleveland, state deputy commander.

Educational Campaign

The first step was to launch an educational campaign throughout the county and in the fall a three-day exhibit was held at the City Library with an attendance of approximately 400 persons. Another educational project was the showing of a film, "We Choose to Live," purchased by the Altrusa club and shown in practically all the schools and at P.-T. A. health meetings. Later an essay contest was held for pupils of the city, parochial and county schools with awards presented for the essays judged the best by the state executive committee.

A campaign conducted in the spring of 1945 had the support of the community which enabled the county unit to establish a detection clinic at the Marion City hospital, which is open for free consultation and examination each Thursday.

Members of the unit are: Mrs. H. K. Mouser, commander, Mrs. Margaret Weiss, secretary, Robert Axe, treasurer, Mrs. Harold V. Alexander, Mrs. Fanny Benson, Mrs. Margaret Bradbury, Mrs. Ray Beverly, Miss Madge Cooper, Mrs. J. A. Dodd, Mrs. W. N. Harder, Miss Ruth Kleinmaier, Mrs. Carl F. LaMarche, Mrs. W. E. MARION MET GET ERIE MERIT AWARDS

R. H. Pauling and H. C. Smith Granted Certificates.

More than 1,450 general supervisors and foremen of the Erie railroad have been awarded certificates of merit by H. D. Barber, Erie vice president. The certificates are in recognition of outstanding safety records ranging from one to 17 years during which employes working for the general supervisors and foremen had no reportable injuries.

Fifty-four of the certificates went to general supervisors who had a 100 per cent safety record for 1945. Receiving the certificate of merit in Marion were R. H. Pauling, division storekeeper, and Police Capt. H. C. Smith.

Included in the total of 1,450 are 1,405 foremen and others in supervisory capacity who have perfect records for periods ranging from one to 17 consecutive years. In this group are 289 supervisors with a perfect safety record of 10 years or more, and 88 with a record of 17 consecutive years.

As defined by the Interstate Commerce commission, a reportable injury is one in which the employe is unable to perform his usual duties for a period in excess of three days during the 10-day period immediately following the injury.

Ancient people thought emeralds sharpened the wits, conferred riches, and when placed under the tongue, gave the power of prediction.

What Will the New and Improved School Program Cost?

Price is always important to all of us. In this case, we buy so much more than bricks and mortar. We buy future opportunities for Marion and its youth.

The whole program will cost $2,100,000 less the proceeds from the sale of the school properties to be abandoned. This is a bargain and we can afford it.

We can afford it because our school indebtedness is practically paid off. The entire program will NOT MAKE OUR TAX BILL ANY GREATER THAN OUR AVERAGE TAX BILL HAS BEEN OVER THE PAST 10 YEARS.

Interest rates today are the lowest in history. These bonds, if we act now, can be financd at about 1%. This rate will save Marion Taxpayers over a million ($1,000,000) dollars in interest over the rate we paid for our last school bond issue. Such savings won't always be possible, which is another reason why we should vote the money NOW.

In addition, there are many factors which cannot be reckoned in dollars indicating why this is the time to vote the money.

Here are some additional plus values we get by voting "FOR" now. These advantages will pay larger dividends than we can reckon in dollars.

1. We will provide our children with safe, modern and efficient school buildings like those of other cities. They deserve good schools.
2. We can make Marion attractive to new residents and new factories (who in turn will help share our taxes) if we provide modern schools, with room for more students.
3. We can provide a backlog of jobs, at good pay, for the time when all of our service men will have returned and when scarcities are over.
4. We can consider accepting a government grant, if such is offered, in which case we may save 50% of the present cost. Holding a special election for this purpose may prove to be too late.
5. We can rehabilitate a majority of our elementary schools soon because this does not involve critical labor or material.
6. We can invest the remainder of the proceeds from the bonds in safe, approved, interest bearing negotiable securities until such time as LOCAL conditions make it desirable and practical to go ahead with the major program.
7. We can start drawing plans and specifications, which take many months to complete, and be ready to take any advantage that presents itself.

This program is sponsored by hundreds of Marion organizations of all walks of life, creeds, political affiliations, etc., and all are tax payers. None has a personal axe to grind. Each has the good of Marion and its youth at heart.

Marion Citizens Have Much More To Gain Than To Lose by Voting "FOR" the SCHOOL BOND ISSUE

Here's Your Pledge for Performance

The Marion Civic Planning Group does hereby promise and pledge that it will continue to keep its organization in existance, and that it will continue to counsel and advise and use its influence to the end that the proposed school building program be satisfactorily carried out.

IT NEVER FAILS!

DOESN'T THE DOORBELL always ring when you're in no condition to receive callers? What this, and every, homemaker needs is a downstairs lavatory where she can tidy up in a hurry when the doorbell rings.
Almost every home has a closet or unused corner that can be converted into a convenient little powder room, and it is a home improvement that will benefit every member of the family.
The initial cost is small compared to the advantages, and since water costs so little, you'll scarcely notice the "upkeep" on your water bill.

EDITORS STUDY WAYS TO AID WORLD PEACE

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 20—The American Society of Newspaper Editors studied today the means whereby the press can best contribute its efforts for world peace and security.

Secretary of State Byrnes and Undersecretary Dean Acheson planned to give the news executives an insight into the nation's foreign problems at a luncheon meeting.

Trygve Lie, secretary general of the United Nations, will speak at the organization's concluding banquet session.

The organization will consider a resolution or more resolutions which may help serve as a chart for appealing to American opinion in the coming months.

Unanimous support appeared certain for two of the resolutions urging the weight of the American press behind steps to alleviate world famine and supporting President Truman's highway safety program at home.

Chief professional interest focused on a resolution reiterating the society's firm stand of maintenance of a free press through the world.

Some members of the resolutions committee said the society might be asked to take a position in connection with the action of the Associated Press and the United Press in withdrawing their services from the state department's overseas information program.

Under consideration was a resolution calling upon the society to recommend that this country's private press finance and edit a "spot news" report for use abroad by the state department.

Wilbur Forest, assistant editor of the New York Herald-Tribune, said yesterday a United Nations committee will give early consideration to American proposals for an international agreement on news freedom.

Forrest made this disclosure to the annual meeting of the American Society of Newspaper Editors. He is chairman of ASNE's standing committee on world freedom of information.

He said Sir A. Ramaswami Mudaliar of India, president of the UN economic and social council, promised him that the matter will receive attention during the council meeting starting in New York April 25.

"One of the subjects specifically before the commission is the question of free information—the getting of news and the distribution of news from every state," the council president wrote Forrest.

"...A draft convention for this purpose may be proposed and the council would then suggest to the general assembly the desirability of adopting the convention and commending it for the acceptance of individual states."

Separate proposals for world news freedom — all looking for a better understanding between world peoples and preservation of peace—were suggested to the American delegation of UN some time ago and the delegates promised to work for them.

Besides ASNE's, others were put forward by Kent Cooper, executive director of The Associated Press, and Hugh Baillie, president of the United Press.

Nylon, vitamins, sulfa drugs and perfumes are among the many products obtained from coal in the coking process.

GOING TO JAPAN. Edwin W. Pauley, above, has been selected by Secretary of State Byrnes and President Truman for a mission to the far east to determine what assets Russia has stripped from Manchuria, and to make a survey of Korea. Pauley, whose nomination for undersecretary of the Navy was withdrawn by the president after a Senate storm, will leave in the near future for Japan to study the Nip reparations.

NEW BLOOMINGTON SCHOOL TO REOPEN

Classes Closed for Week by Scarlet Fever.

By The Associated Press

New Bloomington school, closed this week by a case of scarlet fever, will reopen Monday, County School Supt. D. T. Mills announced today.

Supt. Mills said E. L. Bailey of Plymouth, who has had considerable teaching experience, has been employed to teach the classes of Paul Furniss, New Bloomington superintendent, whose son, Robert, has scarlet fever. Harry Alexander, New Bloomington coach, will take over the administrative duties of the superintendent during Mr. Furniss' absence.

The school was closed last Monday by the county health department after the Furniss boy became ill while on a sight-seeing tour in Cincinnati last weekend with a group of teachers, parents, school board members and high school seniors.

During this week the county health office has made daily visits to persons exposed, but Dr. Sifritt, county health commissioner, reports no new cases have developed.

MIDDLETOWN COMPANY TO BUILD 207 HOMES

New Firm to Launch $1,750,000 Housing Project.

By The Associated Press

MIDDLETOWN, O., April 20—F. H. McGraw, president of the recently incorporated Middletown Development and Supply Co., yesterday announced a $1,750,000 homes building project providing for the erection of a total of 207 housing units in this city.

The plan already has been approved by the Federal Housing administration and will be handled under the provisions of the FHA and the Veterans Emergency Housing act, McGraw said.

The program provides for the building of 129 cottage-type homes to cost $6,000 in the southern section of the city, six four-family apartments, and 72 homes of the $10,000 class in the east end.

McGraw said he had been assured full cooperation by the FHA in providing necessary building materials so that construction could be carried out on a mass production scale.

A recent survey conducted here by the Middletown real estate board disclosed that more than 800 housing units were needed to meet the critical housing shortage.

Machine Age Saddens Capri's Ancient Boatmen

By HAL BOYLE
Associated Newsfeatures Writer

CAPRI, April 20—Cirro Galaso and his two sons have reached a crisis that comes to all true craftsmen everywhere — what to do about this machine age springing up around them.

They can't ignore it and they don't want to embrace it.

For many years Cirro has kept the family spaghetti bowl full by rowing tourists from the landing beach at Grande Marina around the rocky little isle to Grotto Azzurra — its famous blue grotto.

Hal Boyle

To keep passengers from getting bored during the half hour journey Cirro and other fishermen learned to row close to the rocky cliffs and point out sea caves of fantastic shapes to each of which they gave fanciful title.

"Into every hole in the rock we push a name," said 20-year-old Pietro Galaso, who with his older brother, Antonio, has taken over most of the rowing duties from Papa Galaso.

Any Kind You Want

"We have the Spring Water Cave and Nose Cave, the Mount Vesuvio Cave and the Heart Cave, the Donkey Ears Cave and the cave that looks like a skull, the Eyeglasses Cave and the Champagne Cave.

"When we row past little Champagne Cave the waves come bubble back just like bottle champagne. Listen, you hear it."

In the old days Cirro rowed tourists out alone and he would lift his deep bass in old Italian folk songs as his tireless arms moved powerfully and without strain.

Two sons now swing the oars and old Cirro used to bend alone, the oars that enabled him to raise three sons and three daughters. They paint to the caves their father helped name and sing the same songs he sang before them.

But other men have come in bigger boats with motors and put Capri's tourist trade on a mass production basis. Two men can row only three round trips to the blue grotto in a single day but the new motor boats can make many trips. Their "put-put" echoes steadily as they speed past leisurely rowboats.

Standards Threatened

This new competition worries the Galasos and other rowboat guides who think it lowers their calling.

"We got money to buy a motor boat" said Pietro "but you no can see everything if you motor boat.

"You no see the Champagne Cave or the Donkey Ears Cave. Anybody who rides motor boat has motor in his head. He don't want see nothing. Just fast — that's all. Every American he wants go fast. What's all hurry for?"

Pietro, who has rowed so many American soldiers around he has picked up considerable GI slang, summed up the Galaso family positions: "Those motor boat men they think they BTO—that mean 'big time operator'.

"I guess we stick to our row boat—we just STO—'small time operators'.

No, we no buy motorboat. We just want make enough money to eat that all."

Twins Born 67 Hours Apart, One on Tanker

By The Associated Press

PORT ANGELES, Wash., April 20—Premature twins were born 67 hours apart to a Russian woman, Dr. J. L. McFadden reported yesterday, one arriving Tuesday aboard a tanker racing the stork to port and the other yesterday in the Port Angeles General hospital.

Early today hospital attendants said the second-born, a four pound, 14 ounce girl, had an excellent chance to survive. Dr. McFadden was told by the ship's captain that the first baby, the sex of which was not reported, died shortly after birth.

The mother, Mrs. David Yatesky, wife of a Soviet purchasing commission official, said "it was such a little baby—only about three pounds. I could hear it whimper a little.

Dr. McFadden said it was "almost unbelievable" that the second baby was born alive."

Dr. Robert Rutherford, Seattle obstetrician, said, "I've never heard of such a span of hours between births."

EARL E. THOMAS
Republican Candidate for State Representative

I am serving my fifth term in the General assembly. I have no apology to offer for that service. I have tried to give to you the kind of service you should expect from your Representative. My length of service and the experience has given to me the Chairmanship of the Taxation Committee, the most important committee of the House. Many important Tax Bills will come to the House of the next regular session which will convene January 1st, 1947. Do you want experience to represent you in that session? I believe in and have fought to retain Local Units of Government. I was one of those who worked for and supported the Bill giving Local Government a larger share of the Sales Tax, and Local Government is now receiving the increase. This year is going and instead of giving up a large surplus each year, I favor and will support a bill increasing the gas taxes [illegible] to the Highway fund from which it was taken six years ago. I supported all school legislation including the over-riding of the Governor's veto. That additional money belonged to the people and not to the state. My conduct and record I will continue that same policy. My labor record has never been questioned. I supported every bill pertaining to veteran's legislation.

If you favor my record, and consider I have been [illegible] years, I will appreciate your influence and support, and will be happy to abide by your decision.

Six More Players To Try Out With Cardinals in Sunday's Gam

Marion Naval Vet on List; Debut To Be Free to Fans

By JIM DARBY

Six new Cardinal players will be on hand for a tryout in the Cards' exhibition game Sunday at 2 p. m. at Lincoln Park, against Schlaret Transfer, city champs. No admission will be charged.

Among the new players trying-out with the Cardinals is James Myers, recently discharged naval veteran who is the son-in-law of Roy C. Holdridge of near Morral. Mr. Holdridge is associated with Clarence M. Long, Marion real estate agent.

Myers, whose terminal leave expires Sunday, is 27 years old, stands six feet one, weights 185. He is a left handed pitcher who bats right. He was the property of the Cleveland Indians in 1938 and played for Springfield in the Mid-Atlantic league that year.

He started six games for Springfield, winning four of them. He was sent in as relief pitcher in two other games.

22 Months in Navy

Before entering service 22 months ago, he coached for three years at Morris, Ill., and for two years at Benton Harbor, Mich. He was a lieutenant, (j. g.) at the time of separation from the Navy.

Another free agent now working out with the Cardinals is Gordon W. Gucinski, 20, of Ashland, Wis. He is a left handed pitcher who stands five feet eight and weighs 170. In two workouts with the locals he has shown a lot of stuff.

Two more pitchers, Douglas Nicholson and Lee Peterson, are expected from Lynchburg, Va., before Sunday's game time. They and first baseman William MacFarland and infielder Sebastian Schneider will come to Marion as the result of deals made at Albany during the training season.

Cardinal officials said no vital statistics are available on Nicholson or Peterson. MacFarland is known locally to be a good hitter whose speciality is slamming them over the fence. Schneider is an infielder who bats and throws right, stand five feet eight and weighs 180.

Zanesville Gets Eleven

Eleven Zanesville Dodgers arrived from their southern training camp yesterday with eight more expected Sunday when Manager Clay Bryant gets to Zanesville, according to the Zanesville Signal.

The eleven already on the scene are Gordon McMackon, Andy Garbas, William Huguenin, Hardy Holt, Henry Miskowicz, John Stefan, Harold Wilson, Conl Hoffman, Lou Ott and Willis Johnson.

Partin, another player, was reported driving through. Four other players arrived yesterday but were so exhausted that business manager Ralph Peters did not learn their names. Players drove through from High Point, N. C., non-stop.

An exhibition game with Muskingum college is scheduled for Sunday.

Newark Giant Shrinks

Until yesterday Newark had a giant outfielder on their roster. Somehow Raymond H. Buckner of Detroit was listed as standing six feet seven inches tall. He has been reported as absent because managers and sports writers both were searching the stratosphere. Yesterday he informed everyone that he was very much present. All five feet eight inches of him.

Manager Bob Boken has a field of 15 pitchers to draw from. Six are southpaws. He said after watching them practice that he might have several of them with him when the season started since they all looked good.

Boken himself may have a go on the mound when the season gets underway. Although he didn't pitch in the American Association he has tried his hand at hurling in several other leagues with good results.

Indians-Reds To Play

Wednesday Dayton's Indians finally got a weather break and had a lengthy workout, including a nine inning intra-squad game. They have scheduled an exhibition game with the Middletown Reds for Sunday, according to the Dayton Daily News.

Wednesday's game divided the squad, still uncut, into "Indians" and "Tribe." Indians won 10 to 9 with the three base hits of Elroy Dalton, one a double, paving the way. He drove in two runs in the first inning.

Carroll Burton, the catching half of the Burton twins, also slammed a double. Russ Adams hit three times for the Indians and Howard Watkins and Ed Bataska of the Tribe knocked out two hits each.

Joe Jackson, who also can hit, turned in the best pitching record. He held the Tribe hitless for three innings. John Dorgan of the Tribe allowed only one hit in the three innings he worked.

Carl Rzendian of the Indians was robbed of a possible two bagger by Larry Patock who made a running off-the-shoulder nab of his long blow into right field in the day's most sensational fielding play.

CONGRATULATIONS! Jackie Robinson, Montreal Royals' infielder and first Negro to be signed to an organized professional league contract in modern baseball history, crosses plate in Jersey City, N. J., after hitting home run in third inning against Jersey City Giants. He is congratulated by Montreal Outfielder Shuba. Umpire is Art Gore. Royals won 14-1. (Associated Press) Wirephoto).

Cy Young, Old Time Indian Ace, Leads Tribe in Home Opener

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, April 20—Denton (Cy) Young, who pitched the first game of a brilliant career with Cleveland 56 years ago, will lead a "parade" of the Indians and Detroit Tigers to the stadium flagpole today before an expected record crowd of 50,000 in the Tribe's home opener.

Young, a spry Peoli, O., farmer of 79 summers who won an all-time high of 511 major league games as a speedy right-hander, shares the limelight today with Gov. Frank J. Lausche and Acting Mayor Lee Howley, the initial "battery" of today's contest.

Howley, also a right-hander, was called upon to relieve "southpaw" Mayor Thomas A. Burke to hurl the opening pitch while Gov. Lausche has insisted that he will be able to catch Howley's promised "fireball." Gov. Lausche will be relieved immediately, if not sooner, by another Frank—"Iron-Man" Hayes—who will extend his major league record to 312 consecutive games behind the plate in the Indians' opening lineup.

Steve Gromek, who defeated the world champion Tigers four times in five starts while winning 19 games last year, will take the mound against Hal Newhouser, ace of Steve O'Neill's hurling brigade.

The Indians, victorious in their first two starts this year, are expected to draw 100,000 fans today and tomorrow following "an unbelievable" advance ticket sale, Tribe officials reported.

Bob Feller will aim for his second victory of the season tomorrow against the Tigers' Frank Overmire. The Indians' speed king made a spectacular start in the fight to regain his major league pitching crown Tuesday, shutting out the Chicago White Sox on three bingles and fanning 10 batters.

TOLEDO GRABS FIRST WIN OF A.A. SEASON

Brewers Only Winless Team Left in Race.

By The Associated Press

The Milwaukee Brewers, 1945 champions, were left at the post, the only winless team as the newly-started American Association race today switched for fresh competition.

Heading the pack were the St. Paul Saints, who slapped down the Brews twice and then enjoyed a Good Friday holiday at Milwaukee last night while Indianapolis lost to Toledo, 5-4.

Tonight, St. Paul moves in against the Blues (1-2) at Kansas City where the Minneapolis Millers last night won, 9-3.

Louisville also snared the odd game of its get-away series with Columbus (1-2), outlasting the Red Birds, 17-11.

Best pitching performance of last night's round was a six-hit job by Fred Sanford, who struck out 10 Indians as the Mud Hens speared their first victory of the season.

BUDDY BOMAR TO ROLL IN ABC MEET TODAY

Expert To Make Bid for Comeback in Match Game.

BUFFALO, N. Y., April 20—Buddy Bomar, Chicago stylist and former world match-game champion, was expected to use the American Bowling Congress' tournament today as a proving ground in his bid for a comeback in match-game honors.

One of the sport's most graceful bowlers, Romar was scheduled to roll with the white shirt Cologne Classic team which has close to a 1000 home average. Observers say this squad has a chance to go into the tournament five-man lead.

Last night, a comparatively unknown New York City Ranger five stole the spotlight with a 2954 performance, good enough for sixth place in the team standings, after being well on the way to the team lead.

Eddie Linsz' highly-rated Recreation team from Cleveland finished in seventh place with 2951 gross.

NEW YORK, April 20—Fourteen three-year-olds have a date in the 23rd running of the Wood Memorial at Jamaica today—two of them to shoot at a $22,600 paycheck only, and the other 12 aiming at the cash plus a ride to Kentucky.

Reds Slated To Rush Max West Into "Three-Run" Lukon's Post

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, April 20—Cincinnati Manager Bill McKechnie's admiration for Max West—developed while the big outfielder was a Boston Brave—soon will be put to the acid test.

West, acquired from Boston this week in a deal involving pitcher Jim Konstanty and a reported $25,000, joins the Reds at Pittsburgh this week-end, and McKechnie probably will hustle him to left field, replacing Eddie Lukon, whose three-run error cost the Reds the finale of the opening three-game series with the Chicago Cubs.

"I've always liked the boy," says McKechnie, referring to left-handed-hitting West, who pounded out 64 homers and drove in 341 runs during his five years with Boston.

But the veteran pilot isn't going out on the limo with any rosy statements, such as "Max is the answer to my prayer for an ideal outfielder-a better-than-average fielder who's a fair hitter."

The Reds have had some sad experiments with outfielders. An assortment of fly-chasers has passed through their dressing room since McKechnie became field boss in 1938, but only one qualified as the apple of McKechnie's eye. Ival Goodman, who hit 30 homers and batted .292 in 1938 and .323, but only seven circuit clouts, the next year.

The parade cost the Reds nearly $500 000 and the best they have to show for it is Mike McCormick, Al Lioke—and West.

McCormick and Libke both have demonstrated potentiality. Mike, recently back from service, hit .300 in 1940, but an injury has plagued him this spring. Libke, who hit .283 last year, has given McKechnie new gray hairs recently with his uncertain bat and erratic fielding.

As for West, all McKechnie has to say is, "I've always liked the boy."

The words czar and kaiser are both derived from the Latin caesar.

Mansfield Bowlers Here for Inter-City

Mansfield bowlers will invade Marion over the week-end with nine five-man teams and 23 doubles teams from that city participating in the Inter-City tourney at Palace Recreation alleys. They will bowl Saturday night and Sunday afternoon and night. Two Marion bowlers, H. Fair and A. Sansone, will wind up the week-end session Sunday night at 10.

Twenty-four five-man teams will bowl Saturday night. Sixty-four doubles teams will bowl Sunday starting at 11 a. m. Cities represented this week are Mt. Vernon, Centerburg, New Philadelphia, Tiffin, Sandusky, Kent, Chagrin Falls, Norwalk, Lima, Mansfield and Marion.

Senators' Mound Staff Rated No. 1 Flop

By JOE REICHLER
AP Sports Writer

Washington's vaunted pitching staff which kept the 1945 Senators in the pennant race until the final day and which was expected to be the team's most potent weapon this year, has turned out to be one of the biggest early-season disappointments of the current campaign.

Because of the return from military service of such former standouts as Sid Hudson, Walter Masterson and Rae Scarborough to aid holdovers Roger Wolff, a 20-game winner last year, Dutch Leonard, who won 17 games, Mickey Haefner and Marino Pieretti, 16 and 14 game winners respectively, the Capital City hurling corps was rated even stronger this year than last. But it not only has failed to produce a winning pitcher in each of the ful home debut by issuing five Bronx Bombers make a success-team's four games played to date, it hasn't even one complete game to its credit.

Seven Is Maximum

Wolff and Scarborough have managed to stagger through seven rounds, but Masterson and Haefner, the other two starters, each has failed to last more than two frames. In all, Manager Ossie Bluege has been forced to call upon 14 assorted tossers, who in four games have been slugged for 46 hits, 20 of them for extra bases, and have given up 25 walks, an average of more than six per game.

Yesterday's game against the New York Yankees, the day's only scehuled contest, was a perfect example. With a crowd of 54,826 fans looking on in the refurbished Yankee Stadium, five Washington hurlers helped the passes, hitting two batsmen, making a wild pitch and yielding a dozen safe blows good for 18 total bases. The net result was a Yankee victory by a 7-6 margin, the New Yorkers' winning run coming in the last half of the ninth inning when Johnny Lindell scored Tommy Henrich with a long fly ball after Joe DiMaggio had tied the score with a run-scoring double.

That's All

Haefner started on the mound for the Nats but was derricked at the end of the second after the Yankees had teed off on his southpaw slants for six hits and four runs in the second frame. DiMaggio's double and Lindell's second homer in two days were the most damaging blows.

Masterson held the Yanks to only one run in the next four stanzas and was followed on the hill by Pieretti, Vern Curtis and Johnny Niggeling in that order, with Niggeling being charged with the defeat. The Nats had waged a stubborn uphill battle which finally put them ahead 5-4 in the eighth when they combined two hits, a pair of walks and an error by Yankee catcher Bill Dickey for two runs.

Bluege was pinning his hopes today on the 36-year-old Leonard to put them on the winning side of the ledger for the first time. Leonard, only Nat pitcher not yet called upon this season, is slated to face the Yankees in the second of a three game series.

Theater Story Comes To Ohio

"Sentimental Journey" Stars John Payne, William Bendix, Maureen O'Hara.

"Sentimental Journey" starring John Payne, Maureen O'Hara, and William Bendix, and featuring Connie Marshall is now playing through Thursday at the Ohio theater.

The picture tells the unusual and heart-warming story of a glamorous stage star who, very much in love with her husband, attempts to add to his happiness by adopting a nine-year-old child. However, because of the child's sensitive nature and imagination, the plan doesn't work out and a crisis develops.

John Payne is seen as a theatrical producer and director, and Connie Marshall is the little orphan who causes serious trouble between the producer and his stage star wife. William Bendix plays John Payne's business manager and provides the comedy in the picture.

An added attraction to be seen with "Sentimental Journey" will be a new March of Time, "Night Club Boom." With the people of America on pleasure hunts, this picture shows some of the many personalities who appear at the night clubs and the many who go there for entertainment.

James Cagney and Ann Sheridan are co-starred in "City for Conquest" which will be shown for seven days starting Friday.

A dramatic picture, "City for Conquest" tells the story of five people who have in their lives loneliness, the despair of victory, the emptiness of conquest, and the glory of the dignity of a boy who loved and lost. James Cagney is seen as a slum newsboy who rises to fame and fortune by the power of his fists, and Ann Sheridan plays Peggy Nash who danced her way to the bright lights of New York.

COPPERS, UTILITIES STAGE MARKET RISE

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, April 20—Copper and utility shares advanced in today's brief stock market session while rails and selected industrials tended irregularly lower.

Activity in coppers anticipating price increases, and some utilities responding to special situations provided an opening flurry, but the pace was slowed. Total transfers were in the neighborhood of 600,000 shares.

With stocks holding a level equal to their 15-year highs of the February bull market, and many customers remaining on a holiday after yesterday's closing, pivotal industrials were hesitant and many early gains were trimmed or turned into declines. Near the close the list was mixed.

LOVE'S FAIR HORIZON

By ADELE GARRISON

"YES, Mother's perfectly all right," I told my anxious husband. "From Katharine's general attitude, I imagine she will be entirely herself when she awakens, able to get up and be dressed and about her usual routine."

"That's splendid!" he commented in the same muted tones that we both had used under cover of the extravagant compliments which the boys and Noel were showering upon Faith in her miniature nursing costume.

With an involuntary little sigh, I reflected that both Faith and I would have to pay dearly, in discipline given and received, for the thorough spoiling she was receiving in her dramatic role of nurse.

I was sure that my father's plans included Jack; Katharine, the boys and myself for the trek to the farm. That would leave Faith to the more-than-tender mercies—in fact, the over-tender one—of her father and her grandmother for an indefinite number of days.

Ordinarily, her grandmother can be counted on to keep the little girl under strict but loving and kindly supervision. With Dicky on hand, however, and his heart so filled with nostalgia for his baby girl that he cannot bear to see her crossed in anything, and his mother anxious to gratify his slightest wish, I could visualize a troublesome problem in discipline when I finally got her under my own wing again.

Dicky Clairvoyant

There have been many times in my life when I have accused Dicky of being clairvoyant, so I was not startled at his sudden subdued chuckle and his accompanying murmur:

"Don't worry, old dear!" he said. "I'll try to see that the young lady's head is reduced to size by the time you see her again."

"You ought to go on a radio thought transference program," I murmured back. "You'd make your fortune. But thank you."

"You're welcome, I'm sure," he said, so primly that I had to catch back a laugh. "And now, may I suggest," he went on, "that you break this session up? We'll be late if we delay much longer."

"Right away," I told him, and walked toward the admiring group around my small daughter.

Jack glanced up alertly, and I looked significantly at the clock on the mantel. He nodded his recognition of my signal, and went into action immediately.

"I'm sorry, Nurse," he said, "but we must get back to our patient immediately. The other nurse may need us."

Faith changed in an instant from an enchanting little show-off to an even more alluring impersonation of her dignified nurse's role. She straightened her small figure, threw up her head and looked Jack directly in the eyes.

"Yes, Doctor," she said. "Of course, Doctor. I'm ready now, Doctor."

"Then we'll go now," he said. "Goodbye, everybody."

Faith turned her head toward us, and gave a quick nod.

Starched Dignity

"Goodbye, everybody," she echoed with starched dignity, and we heroically restrained our laughter until the door had closed behind them.

"I wouldn't have missed that for anything," Noel said, and as I for anything," Noel said, and as I looked at his relaxed face, and his temper in them, I was suddenly saddened as I visualized the possible emotional explosion which the coming festivity might bring forth.

"Didn't she put on a good show?" Junior asked, pride in his small sister vibrant in his voice.

"No better on Broadway," Rodcreick asserted, with pride in his own voice, and then I struck in firmly.

"It's time to leave here now," I said.

YOUR HEALTH

By HERMAN BUNDENSEN, M.D.

Kidney Stones

ONE OF the most puzzling of still unsolved medical problems has to do with the formation of a certain type of kidney stones. Stones which form in the kidneys may be made up of various substances but, in the main, they are composed of one or the other of two mineral salts, phosphates or oxalates.

Now the why and wherefore of phosphate stone formation is pretty well understood and for this reason doctors have had no little success in preventing their recurrence. On the other causes of oxalate stone formation remain obscure.

Two Kinds of Stone

It is agreed, according to Drs. Harold Jeghers and Rosemary Murphy of Boston, that infections and blocking of the flow of urine, so important in producing phosphate stones, have no effect in producing oxalate stones.

With these obvious causes out, doctors have tried to discover whether diet might perhaps play some role in the formation of this most common of all types of kidney stones.

They noted that oxalate stones are of much more frequent occurrence in the people of certain areas of the world than in those living elsewhere. From this it is suggested that the use of a diet high in oxalic acid content may result in stones of this kind.

Among such foods are: beet tops, Swiss chard, parsley, rhubarb, spinach, dried figs, cocoa, chocolate and gelatin. Black tea and ground pepper are also rich in oxalic acid.

Nothing Conclusive

However, there are other areas where such stones develop frequently in which the diet employed is low in oxalates, so there is nothing conclusive this observation.

Again experiments were carried out in which oxalate stones were produced in rats on a diet low in magnesium. However, whether or not lessening of the magnesium content of the diet in human beings may be a factor in oxalate stone production is still not known.

Nevertheless, a diet has been suggested which it is thought may be helpful in preventing kidney stones made up of calcium oxalate. This is one made up of plenty of calcium, magnesium and phosphorous, but low in oxalate-rich foods.

It should contain also plenty of whole-grain foods, a variety of fruits and vegetables, excluding those mentioned above, milk, butter, meat and meat broth. If necessary, calcium and magnesium preparations may be used to supplement the diet. It is also suggested that increasing the intake of vitamins A and B-complex, and a lessening of the starches and sugars in the diet may also be of value.

Some things are certain, constipation should be eliminated and worry avoided as much as possible. From 8 to 10 glassfuls of water should be drunk daily.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

R. G.: What causes numbness in the hands?

Answer: This may be due to nerve disorders, trouble with circulation, vitamin deficiency, and similar causes. Careful study by a physician is needed in each instance to determine the cause before treatment can be prescribed.

Read Today's Suggestions for Use of Waste Garage Space

YOUR HOME TODAY and TOMORROW

by W. Wadsworth Wood

Developing the Garage for Use of All Space.

There is hardly a home in this country that does not boast of either a one or a two-car garage. Even though the structure itself is missing, it will be contemplated, and some provision will have been made for it in the owner's mind. In some cases it will be attached and other cases detached, but whatever the condition may be, the garage has become a very integral part of the average home.

It is an astonishing fact that of all the closed areas around a home, the garage is the most poorly developed. When you walk into the average garage you find a tremendous amount of space devoted to the housing of one or two cars. You find that there is a waste of at least two-thirds of the cubic footage enclosed by the four walls. You find that the open space above the doorway, usually entirely vacant from front to back, represents several hundreds of cubic feet of good storage space.

To turn the unused space in the average garage into good usable areas is not much of a problem. Starting with the open area under the roof, it might be pointed out that by flooring that space, and leaving a hatch-way with a ladder attached to one of the walls, you can promptly acquire spacious storeroom.

When you run your car into the garage you are using the floor-space only to a height of about five feet. If you build a large shelf across the back wall of the garage so that the hood of the car can run under it without trouble, you will have adequate storage for trunks, chests, etc.

Under this shelf, you can provide space for wheel-barrow, lawnmower, roller, or other garden equipment. The garden tools can be arranged in rows along one of the walls without interfering with the car. You can arrange racks above the car space for storm-sash and screens. You can have narrow shelves for paints and brushes, oil-cans and spare equipment. If you will run your car or cars into the garage, and note exactly how much space is taken up, you can develop the balance to suit your needs.

Very often the two-car garage has a very large amount of space above it. In many cases it is large enough to warrant finishing it off to accommodate one or two rooms and a bath. The entrance can be arranged for by means of an outside stairway. This type of living quarters may be put to good use as a study, a spare room, or a guest room.

FIRST AID TO AILING HOUSE

—By ROGER C. WHITMAN—

SOAP SMEARS WINDOWS

A friendly reader, having read an item in our columin about removing soap and tallow smears from store windows after Halloween, wrote that she used a cola beverage for that purpose. She added that any carbonated drink or carbonated water might serve equally well. But she used cola drink. Many thanks to the reader for the tip.

BATHROOM FINISH

Q: Our pretty coat of plaster on the bathroom walls and ceiling is badly cracked. What could be used as a cover after the crack is filled? We can not afford anything expensive.

A: Be sure to have the crack filled in by an experienced workman Otherwise the crack may give trouble again. If the plaster is cracked all over, you may need a complete replastering job. If there are only a few cracks, they can be filled and the walls and ceiling covered with a good wall-cloth of the oil-cloth type. An alternative is to paint with two coats of enamel undercoater and a finish coat of enamel. Ordinary flat wall paint will not be suitable in a bathroom, as it absorbs moisture

OIL STAINED CEILING

Q. I live on the first floor. My papered living room ceiling has been stained from a leaky oil stove on the floor above. What should I do to my ceiling? I do not wish the stain to spread.

A. If it is clean kerosene, the discoloration may disappear in two or three weeks' time, but if heavier oil was used, have the plaster cut out and replaster the area. Make certain the trouble overhead has been eliminated before you attempt replastering.

Protection Urged In Used Fixtures Sale

When used plumbing fixtures are sold to the public they should be plainly marked as such and should be properly disinfected and cleaned before being offered for sale. This suggestion is made by the Plumbing and Heating Industries Bureau in the interest of public health and in view of the fact that surplus government plumbing fixtures are expected to be on the market soon.

The Bureau points out that virtually all fixtures offered for sale by the government as surplus material are now new but are salvaged from military or naval housing or temporary housing erected for work workers.

While many cities have ordinances governing the sale of used plumbing fixtures, not all municipalities offer such protection. It is for this reason that the Bureau points out that no used plumbing fixtures should be offered for sale without first having been thoroughly cleaned and disinfected. Fixtures with cracks and checks are particularly likely to harbor germs. The concealed trapways and overflows should be cleaned with great care. Purchasers should require proof that fixtures have been cleaned.

SAFETY EQUIPMENT

One of the newest ideas in home construction is the building in of fire extinguisher cabinets to match the woodwork. This innovation blends fire protection with decor, keeps it always at hand in case of emergency. Only make sure that the extinguishers you put into your cabinets carry the approval label of the Underwriters' Laboratories. That label is your guarantee that the equipment has been tested by the fire safety engineers.

Crestline Society Honors 25-Yr. Members

Special to The Star

CRESTLINE, April 20—The Missionary society of First Presbyterian church met in the home of Mrs. L. M. Niswander Wednesday with Mrs. C. E. Iman, associate hostess. Mrs. C. E. Cook led devotions, aided by Mrs. John Beck, and Mrs. Niswander. Mrs. Cook and Mrs. Sherwood McKean were given recognition as members of the society for 25 years, after which they reviewed the book, "Dr. Ida India." Mrs. Louis Smith was program leader.

Labor Shortage Slows Equipment Output

Manufacturers of plumbing and heating equipment are hopeful that the labor shortage, which is now hampering production, will be alleviated this year so that they may attain normal output and meet the huge demand for plumbing fixtures, brass goods, boilers, radiators, pipe, valves, fittings, water heaters, shower cabinets, and other plumbing and heating materials.

Manufacturers have ample productive capacity to produce large quantities of plumbing and heating materials. The chief limitation on production, says the Plumbing and Heating Industries Bureau, is the inability of the manufacturers to get an adequate number of experienced workmen. The shortage of help is particularly acute in the foundry departments and the brass polishing departments.

RULES DRAWN TO AID "AMATEUR" PAINTERS

For promotion of better painting results by so-called amateur painters—"most of whom can turn out a mighty neat performance if they try"—the Canadian Paint, Varnish and Lacquer association has issued 15 "rules."

Some of these, it is commented, may be new, but most of them are long established and fundamental. All are simple and it is suggested that they be reviewed and observed when a paint job is to be done. The rules:

1. Use a good quality paint. If the job is worth spending time on, it deserves a paint that will give best results.

2. Stir the paint thoroughly before using. Everybody knows that should be done, but plenty of people still are inclined to skimp on the stirring.

3. Be sure that the surface to be painted is absolutely free from dirt, oil or grease—and of course, make sure it is dry.

Directions Important

4. Follow the directions on the can — the manufacturer really knows best how his product should be used. He has spent a lot of time and money to find out.

5. When, or if, paint needs thinning, thin it sparingly—with turpentine. Don't try thinning with linseed oil. The paint may go farther if you do, but it won't stand up as well because the careful balance between oils and pigments has been upset.

6. Use a good quality brush. It pays off in a better paint job.

7. If it is a new brush, give it a 24-hour soaking in linseed oil before putting it in the paint.

8. Use a sensible size brush. Don't try to do a wall with a little brush, and don't try to do fine work, or get into tight corners, with a big brush.

9. Allow plenty of time between coats. Not just enough time so that the paint is no longer tacky, but enough time so that it has dried hard and firm.

10. Do your painting when the air is warm and dry for best results. In interior painting, make sure that there is plenty of circulating.

Watch the Colors

11. In choosing paint c from color chips in paint de stores, remember that the c the finished job will be some deeper than that of the color because the color has been ap to a greater area.

12. If the surface hasn't painted before, use a good pr sealer undercoating for the coat.

13. Don't apply paint in ra rain. Two thin coats are al better than one thick one.

14. Remember the simple of color—that blues, greens allied tints are "cool" colors that yellows and orange sh are "warm"; that light colors a room give an impression greater spaciousness and da shades do the opposite.

15. Ask your paint dealer advice on particular problems telephone or write any reputa paint company whose prod you are using.

Famous "Old Guard" To Take Over Berlin

By The Associated Press

BERLIN, April 20 — The "old guard" regiment of the United States Army is taking over the job of policing Berlin soon.

Somewhat reduced from its wartime complement but still a tough, mobile outfit, the Third Infantry regiment has been assigned to the occupation duties being relinquished by the 78th division.

The regiment, which claims to be the oldest in the Army's history, came from Ludwigsberg. The men now are being trained in occupation work. Col. Herbert J. Vander Heide of Washington, D. C., the commander, expects to be ready for handling prisoners of war.

Twenty-seven battle streamers have gone to the Third since it was organized under a continental congress resolution in 1784. Then it was known as the Pennsylvania regiment of infantry. It got the designation as the "Third" in 1915.

The Third was on hand when Lee surrendered at Appomattox.

ONLY HISTORY NOW

GARDEN CITY, Kans. — Imperial, Kans., a thriving community near Garden City more than 60 years ago faded into history recently with sale of the old homestead of the late Dan Carl, a pioneer of the community. Although 30 miles from a railroad, Imperial was heavily settled as late as the early 1890's but gradually declined until the postoffice was abandoned a few years ago. Carl was the last of the early settlers.

A post service by couriers on horseback along the present Boston Post Road was the beginning of overland mail service in the United States.

PICTURES PAINT PATHOS AT TRAGIC MINE EXPLOSION. Twelve miners operating at a low level in one of Virginia's few anthracite coal diggings died in a blast at McCoy, Va., that caught them 5,000 feet from entrance. Fellow miners bear the body of one of the victims, center above, to a waiting ambulance, while relatives and friends, including the woman and child shown at the left and right above, wait to learn the fate of their loved ones. Ironically, Virginia's worst mine explosion in many years came at a time when all but a fraction of the 18,000 Virginia miners were "laying off" during the United Mine Workers of America-operator contract negotiations. DRIVER FINED $100 FOLLOWING ACCIDENT

Injured Passenger in Car Is Taken to City Hospital.

Burl A. Sharp, 22, of near Marion, pleaded guilty today in municipal court to a charge of driving while intoxicated and was fined $100 and costs with three year suspension of his driving rights. He was arrested by state highway patrolmen this morning after an accident south of Marion in which Mrs. Kenneth Gerbes of 406 Lee street was injured.

Mrs. Gerbes is in City hospital for observation. Hospital officials said today she apparently has suffered no serious injury.

Patrolmen said Sharp was driving north on route 23 three miles south of town at 12:04 a. m. when he lost control of his car. The car, which was badly damaged, clipped off several fence posts at the Henry Miller farm and damaged a light pole.

Edward R. Beatty, 20, and Robert E. Beltz, 19, both of Kenton, who were in the car, escaped injury.

Anti-Tank Gun Replaces Old Civil War Cannon

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS, April 20 — Replacing the old Civil war cannon which was an ornament in front of the Bucyrus Armory until it joined the "scrap drive" during the second World war, a modern anti-tank gun is to be placed at the Armory by Camp Thoman, United Spanish War Veterans.

The new gun has already been brought to the Armory and will be placed as soon as the old cannon standard can be removed to make way for a larger standard required by the new gun.

The new gun was secured from the ordnance plant at Lecrone, near Camp Perry and is a surplus 57 MM anti-tank gun, and was brought here by truck supplied by the Ohio Locomotive Crane Co.

Easter's Promise

THERE will be more thought than usual this Easter about promises that could be fulfilled if enough men grew tired of their own futility.

Human beings do not need to hate and kill one another. They do so by their own decision. They deny the brotherhood of man, or if they do not deny it they accept only the principle, ignoring the practice.

The promises they make to each other in the wake of each new wave of death and destruction could be kept. They could be renewed from year to year as the promise of Easter is renewed. Men could do this, if they chose.

Many do choose to do it. For almost 2,000 years, men have been moving closer to realization of the promise of Easter: that mankind can be redeemed if there is faith.

Wherever the grass grows green on a soldier's grave, or a blossom falls on ground hallowed by suffering and death this Easter, the promise is renewed in someone's heart. Men never were closer to understanding the ultimate wisdom of Christianity than they are today, disillusioned by their latest denial of brotherhood with their own kind.

Propaganda Is Not Discussion

SECRETARY OF NAVY FORRESTAL'S order to officers to pipe down on speeches against unification of the armed services should help to clear up a situation that had grown explosive. It already had fired President Truman's temper.

The fact is that special pleading by spokesmen for a government department is not legitimate discussion. It is diversion of money, time and effort for propaganda. The Navy department is not the first to engage in it by any means. Most government departments have had the illusion that they are untouchable.

One of the most flagrant abuses of public tolerance is the method chosen by OPA in its frantic attempt to develop immunity to change. This sort of thing should be below the dignity of the armed services. It is below even the minimum dignity of OPA.

Discussion of the unification of national defense will continue in a calmer atmosphere. The issue will be settled after hearing the expert testimony of Navy spokesmen, war department spokesmen and anyone else with something to say—testimony, not propaganda.

Government employes easily fall into the error of thinking they alone know how their departments should be run. It is necessary to remind them occasionally that such decisions are not made by employes. Under our Constitution, they are made by congress.

Disorganized Labor

IN automobile factories workers are being sent home for lack of material. Strikes are holding auto production to a trickle spreading distress among automobile workers.

Steel production throughout the country, reports civilian production administration, is declining, due to the bituminous strike. Emergency conditions are imminent in railroads and coal-using utilities. All hope of further progress with reconversion now depends on John L. Lewis.

The first products of reconverted industry frequently are halted short of the market or marketed apologetically because some essential part cannot be supplied pending decision of other labor leaders to let union members go back to work.

In Cleveland an AFL organization denies admission to newsmen belonging to CIO, contending that AFL members could not attend CIO meetings, so turn-about is fair play.

Throughout the United States preparations are afoot for a showdown in the war between AFL and CIO for dues-paying members. Within the two labor organizations other preparations are afoot for a showdown in the war between officials for control of the organizations and their vast incomes.

Yet there continues to be absurd talk about organized labor as something with a single purpose and a single identity. In the present state of affairs, it is not organized labor which is threatening to cut off its nose to spite its face. It is disorganized labor, with no unity, no program, nothing but a bad combination of the gimmes and devil take the hindmost.

STYLES FOR THUGS

Gunmen are becoming clothes conscious. In Chicago a little character put on white tie and tails before shooting at two citizens. The society editor informs us, however, that the costume is not correct. The proper dress for perforating your neighbors is hunting pinks, riding boots and a top hat. Then you cry, "Yoicks," and blast away with the tommy gun. —Kansas City Star.

Compromise Merger

By RAYMOND MOLEY

New Proposal To Unify Services Demands Attention

SOME months ago, when Army-Navy unification plans began to get hot, it was suggested in this column that the place to unify the services was in the White House. The President's time, of course, is extremely limited, allowing only for supreme decisons. But it is possible to attach to the President a deputy with sufficient authority and dignity to correlate those matters in which joint Army-Navy interests are involved. The President already has six administrative assistants. But so insignificant have been the appointees that the present grade of assistant President is unsufficient. A deputy could be added who would be qualified to serve for the Pesident in service affairs.

Major George Fielding Eliot has now made a similar proposal to end the current controversy over the President's indorsed plan. It should be heeded by Congress.

The President is committed to the Army plan. He cannot well retreat. The Navy is prevented by a White House gag from a real appeal to the public. Congress is in no mood to act hastily. Therefore, unless a statesman-like solution comes forth, the controversy will run on, like a festering sore, through a year when major military decisions must be made.

Eliot's Plan

Major Eliot allows the Army a major concession. There should, he says, be a Department and a Cabinet Secretary for Air. Considering that President Truman has already conceded that the Navy must keep much of its air force, this new Department would largely be an Army show at the beginning. That would give the Navy one of the three seats in the Cabinet dealing with the armed services. This is a sensible concession.

A serious objection to the present scrambled Thomas plan is its provision for a single Chief of Staff. Under him would be the commanding generals of Army and Air and the Chief of Naval Operations. This feature is a special source of irritation to Navy leaders. Such a Chief of Staff would have to be a technical man. Hence, an Army, Navy or Air man.

The duties of the proposed chief of staff are not clear. He would not command the three services. He would advise the President and the Defense Secretary and get from them the orders which he would execute. But the language of the proposal is so loose that he would, substantially, be put in command. Congress is thus asked to give the President power to legislate this chief into a position of power not specifically authorized in the bill.

Departure from Plan

In the current bill, a departure is made from the former army plan in that the subordinate civilian heads of the three services would be called secretaries, not assistant secretaries. This is a distinction without a difference. A secretary without cabinet rank is just another assistant secretary, whatever you call him. The "secretary" for the Navy would be six times removed from the top. Above him would be the secretary and under secretary of common defense. It is quite evident that, for all practical purposes, the assistant secretaries for research and development, intelligence and procurement would be superior to him. The whole plan would create a vast jumble of secretaries, with no clear line of authority anywhere. It is a chartmaker's nightmare.

Visual Education?

A former Georgia school principal is performing in the chorus of a Chicago burlesque theater.

This is a strange situation and former members of her P.-T.A. must be shaking their heads over this sheltered southern maid who is going in for northern exposure.

Her colleagues, too, will find it difficult to understand her deserting the teaching profession, where she had only to use her head.

But one can see her side of it: the pay is better, for one thing, and then, too, there are no papers to grade at night.

Besides, she undoubtedly finds it easier to hold the attention of her present patrons than her former pupils.

There seems little likelihood, with stage-door Johnnies showering her with candy and flowers, that she's missing the apples which the pupils brought.

After all, she's still in the educational field . . . only now she's teaching anatomy.

Study of War Prison Effects

Specialists Report on Health of Former Jap Captives.

A HEALTH survey of 4,018 repatriated American prisoners of war from the Far East revealed that 60 to 70 per cent harbored intestinal parasites or worms—sometimes from two to six different kinds at a time.

The surgeon general established a board of specialists to conduct the survey. The report is presented in the April 13 issue of The Journal of the American Medical Association by Brigadier General Hugh J. Morgan, United States Army, Colonel Irving S. Wright and Lieut. Colonel Arie van Ravenswaay, of the Medical Corps, Army of the United States.

The survey, which was made in debarkation hospitals on the East and West Coasts, began on Stepember 1, 1945 and was terminated October 22, 1945. The period of captivity among the patients ranged from three and one-half years to a few days. According to the authors the "conditions under which most of the men had lived were those of starvation, filth and lack of suitable clothing, with periods of definite torture. Thousands died as a result of these hardships."

The Journal article says in part:

"Many of the troops captured in the Philippines had been on starvation diets and had suffered from dysentery and malaria for many weeks before capture. Some had lost 30 to 50 pounds before capture.

"While the total weight of many of these patients at the time of the survey was equal to their former normal weight examination with particular attention to their shoulder girdles and extremities indicated that their nutritional state as evidenced by muscular development was far below normal. The newly gained weight in these persons was largely confined to their protuberant abdomens, or so-called 'rice bellies.'

Malaria Prevalent

"Careful histories revealed that 2,519 men believed that they had malaria sometime during their imprisonment. Since most of these men had received little or no antimalarial therapy during their imprisonment, this adds considerable evidence to the belief that malaria will "burn itself out without treatment over a period of from a few months to several years.

"A detailed study was carried out on 75 anemic patients. These men had been on a grossly inadequate diet consisting mainly of rice for an average of 40 months. The average loss of weight was 37 pounds. Nutritional deficiency was observed in 50 to 70 per cent. A history suggesting wet beriberi (a form with anemia and dropsy, but without paralysis, caused by a deficiency of vitamin B1) was obtained in 77 per cent, and a history of dry beriberi (a form in which paralyses are the dominant feature) was obtained in about 50 per cent.

"Anemia was observed in 52 per cent of the first 1,500 released prisoners surveyed.

"The factors concerned in the production of these anemias were complex. They included severe nutritional deficiencies, intestinal parasitic infestations and other causes, including dysentry, malaria, blood loss and infections.

Results of Beriberi

"Beriberi heart (marked by a deterioration of the heart muscle) was encountered but in a high percentage of victims resulted in death in the prison camps.

"Five hundred and five men reported having had pneumonia. One hundred and one out of 3,742 checked showed evidence of active pulmonary tuberculosis on X-ray examination. This is a high percentage of infection and indicates that exposure of these prisoners to tuberculosis must have occurred frequently.

"Outbreaks of diphtheria, both skin and faucial (involving the passage from mouth to pharynx), were common, and in certain camps death occurred from diphtheria. A scar not dissimilar from the scar of skin ulcers due to diphtheria was found to have been produced by the so-called 'fire treatment' of Japanese doctors which was used not only on American prisoners but on their own troops. This consisted in applying a small pellet of sulfur to the skin and igniting it. An ulcer was produced which inevitably became infected. This form of treatment was applied in diverse parts of the body, depending on the disease being treated."

ATLANTA—If Junior breaks into the neighbor's house and decorates the bedspread with tomato ketchup. . . .

If the waitress spurns your tip with "you probably need it worse than I do." . . .

If someone chisels his way ahead of you at the market. . . .

. "Why be irritated?" asks Dr. Newdigate M. Owensby, Atlanta psychiartrist. "It's just the trend of the times."

And Dr. Owensby doesn't see any improvement in the trend. In fact, if you're still careful about your manners, you're just out of step with the times, he says.

After the last war, he recalled, they called it the "Jazz Age." What will it be called this time? Dr. Owensby doesn't know, but he's sure it will be worse.

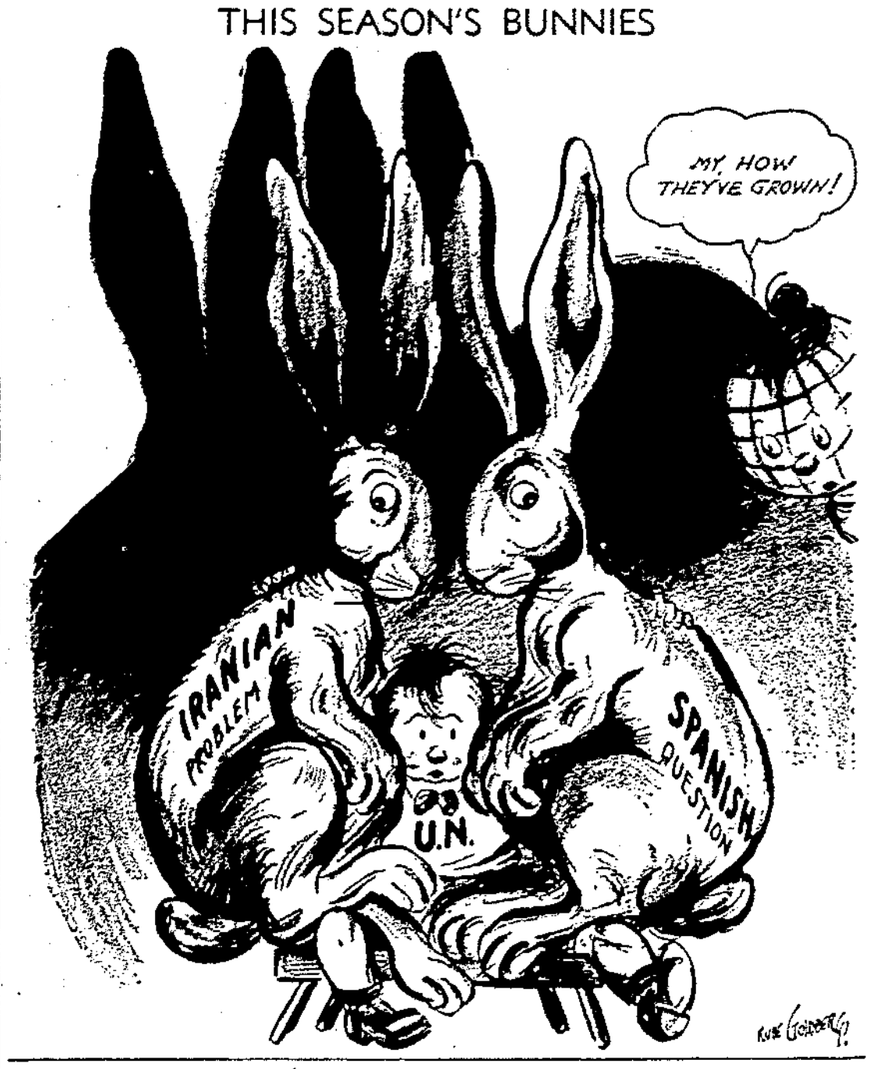
Some factors in the picture, he says, are these: Women have been knocked off their pedestals—and they like it. They've gone into welding in wartime—and they're tough. The kids left at home—they think they've gotten tough too.

Southern chivalry and its hat-tipping gentlemen?

Dr. Owensby murmurs a farewell to the lazy, courteous south. The modern miss, he says, would suspect the Crinoline era courtesies as a preliminary maneuver to a pick-up.

But all chivalry is not, of course, dead, says Dr. Owensby. There is, for instance, the case of the man who didn't offer to give up his seat, but he offered to hold the packages of a lady who was standing.

THIS SEASON'S BUNNIES



From News of Other Years

TEN YEARS AGO

It was Monday, April 20, 1936.

Premier Mussolini, through his Geneva spokesman, stated that his price for peace in Ethiopia would be acquisition of the east African empire.

A Paris newspaper reported Germany had begun building a line of steel and concrete fortifications in the remilitarized Rhineland along the Dutch, Belgian and French frontiers.

Rev. and Mrs. Franklin G. Markley of Epworth church, Rev. and Mrs. Henry Maag of the Prospect Street Methodist church, Rev. and Mrs. Stanley W. Wiant of the Wesley church and Rev. Richard Black of the Asbury and Morral charges attended a spring meeting of pastors and laymen of the Lima district of the Methodist church at Dunkirk.

Approximately 200 members and guests attended the 39th anniversary of the organization of Lydia Chapter No. 83, Order of the Eastern Star. Nine of the 22 charter members were present. They were Mr. and Mrs. David Odaffer of Columbus, Mrs. Jessie Clark, Mrs. Bertha Cheney, Mrs. Laura Dombaugh, Mrs. Mary K. Hughs, Mrs. Mildred Hunter, Mrs. Nettie Waddell and Mrs. Ella Williams. Mrs. Zelda Sweney was worthy matron of the chapter.

Bennett Bindley was a guest speaker at a meeting of the Marion Service club at Hotel Harding. Robert Anderson and William Luse were introduced as new members.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

It was Tuesday, April 20, 1926.

The annual Marion Y. M. C. A. campaign for operating funds started with a goal of $20,250 set. A corps of 125 solicitors was in the field.

Gen. Smedley D. Butler, head of the Marine corps, announced he would launch a campaign to "dry up" that branch of the military service. His announcement followed court martial conviction of Col. Alexander S. Williams on drunkenness charges. Investigation showed, according to Gen. Butler, that "cocktail parties" were a frequent occurrence at the Marine base.

A luncheon was given by Mrs. J. Harold Prendergast at her home on Vernon Heights boulevard complimenting Miss Josephine Schroeter, whose marriage to Richard E. Edmondsin of New York City was to take place the following week.

Mrs. O. G. Briggs of South Vine street returned from St. Petersburg, Fla., where she had spent the winter with her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Fred G. Briggs.

Dr. and Mrs. Jesse Swank of Dayton, former Marion residents, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer J. Schoenlaub of Mt. Vernon avenue on their way home from Lakeside.

Small Radio Helps Flying

STAMFORD, Conn. — An old source of accidents in the air has been eliminated through development here of a post-card-size two-way radio for light civilian planes.

Airadio, Inc., manufacturer, declares that the new set extends big plane safety to small craft and solves the hazard caused by small planes being out of contact with the control tower for instructions and positioning.

The set weighs ten pounds and ten ounces and makes a postcard-size panel on the dashboard. It provides plane-to-tower, interplane, and interphone passenger communication, and also is designed to permit radio range flying and standard broadcast reception.

U. S. Jobholders Hold On

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON — There's a good deal of complaint around here—especially in congress—that the federal payroll isn't going down from its wartime high as fast as it should.

Bare figures indicate that federal employes may level off soon, at least temporarily, at about 2,400,000 — only 600,000 under the all-time war high. The administration promised that it would have the figure down to 2,000,000 by July 1.

Also, according to the best indexes, the national capital still is growing with no indication of that anticipated postwar exodus.

However, as Jerry Klutz, the Washington Post watchdog on matters of federal employment, points out, figures don't tell the whole story and the government is doing itself an injustice in not breaking down the figures and explaining.

This undoubtedly is true and it provides anti-administration members of the economy bloc plenty of ammunition that actually doesn't amount to much of a bang when an analysis is made.

Some Replacements

In the first place, the administration undoubtedly erred in its estimate of what it could do about quick postwar whittling on the federal payroll. A lot of wartime agencies have been closed down or are now in the process of closing.

But a number (some very sizeable) have sprung up and certain wartime duties of others merely transferred to established departments.

The best example of postwar growth is naturally the Veterans Administration. Virtually dying before the war, VA now finds itself with around 15,000,000 veterans to deal with and with administrative duties undreamed of under the old veteran laws.

National housing, surplus property disposal and a half dozen others have suddenly to work out reconversion. The department of agriculture is finding that it has temporary problems almost as great as those in war. State is re-establishing its embassies, legations and consulates, as well as providing civilians for the occupation forces. Treasury reductions are bound to be slight. Labor has expanded greatly through absorption of war emergency agencies.

While the Army and Navy are getting rid of uniformed personnel at quite a clip now, they are having to replace many of them with civilian employes.

Let's hope that big government on a wartime scale is not here to stay. The figures so far aren't proof that it is.

So They Say—

Eduardo Chibas, a close friend of President Ramon Grau San Martin and the leader of the Autentico party, of Cuba—"We do not need any defense by Russia, which is bringing up the question of American bases in Cuba to draw attention away from her imperialist designs on China, the Balkans, the oil of Iran and the Dardanelles. I am sure the bases will be returned to us in accordance with our treaty."

Prime Minister Stalin, of Russia—"I attribute great significance to the United Nations Organization, since it is a serious instrument for the preservation of peace. The strength of this international organization consists in the fact that it is based on the principle of the equality of the rights of states and not on the principles of the domination of some states over others."

Premier Ahmad Ghavam, of Iran—"With Marshall Stalin's good intentions toward Iran and the friendliness existing between Iran and the Soviet Republic I hope in the New Year to bring about an understanding between the two countries and to begin a new age in our relations with Russia laying bilateral respect on a lasting foundation."

Lt. Gen. Walter Bedell Smith, of the United States Army—"So long as Russia and the United States understand and cooperate with each other, the peace of the world is assured."

Daily Bible Thought

Humanity is needlessly hounded by fear. This is God's world and no sparrow falls to the ground without his will and the hairs of our heads are numbered. He makes every cell of our bodies to perform physical and chemical wonders, why not trust Him?: "Casting all your anxiety upon Him, because he careth for you." —1 Peter 5:7.

CROSSTOWN By Roland Coe

"It smells good—what was it?"

The Once Over

By H. I. PHILLIPS

Portrait for Good Friday

GEORGE SPELVIN shrugged his shoulders appeals to do his part for the relief of European war sufferers. "Why is it my problem? What's the reason America is asked so much?" he asked. "Sure, it's a tough situation, but what can I do that will make any difference?"

"And stripping Him, they put a scarlet about Him. And platting a crown of thorns they put it upon His head . . ."

He wasn't interested in solving the atom bomb problem. "We invented it, didn't we?" he demanded. "Now that we have it, of course the other fellows want it. I dunno whether we should share the secret and outlaw it or not. They raised the fuss, didn't they, when gunpowder was first used. It ain't my headache. I should worry!"

"And they put a reed in His right hand, and bowing the knee before Him, they mocked Him, saying "Hail, King!" "

What was happening under the occupation plans in Europe and Asia didn't bother George. "We won the war, didn't we?" he asked. "We jumped in and saved the world, didn't we? Oh, it's all over, and we should get out of there at once. If those bully nations haven't learned their lesson and there's to be another war some day, then there's' nothing we can do to stop it. It's more than the last time. Let the nations close to home do the worrying."

"And spitting upon Him, they took the reed and struck His head . . ."

"There's too many appeals. It's just one after another. Red Cross, United Charities, European Relief, Catholic Charities, Cancer . . . all one after the other. I'm willing to do my part, but I've got my own troubles. These appeals come too fast, I tell you," Spelvin complained.

"And after they had mocked Him, they took off His cloak from him and put on Him His own garments . . ."

There was a report that the United Nations Organization, the great hope for an end of war and for permanent world peace, was going to set up shop in George's town, and he began squawking at once. "What'll it do to property values?" he cried. "What about business? What I want to know is will UN guarantee that you and mine will not be disturbed in the peaceful and quiet enjoyment of my home?"

"And they led Him away to crucify Him. And they gave Him wine to drink mingled with gall."

George was for forgetting the war and all its problems and getting back to business, and a little fun. "Things will work out all right," he said lightly. "We worry too much. The thing to do now is to settle down to business, scrap those global problems and get back where we can have things like we used to."

"And after they crucified Him they parted His garments and cast lots for them."

"Well, I'll be getting along," said Spelvin. "It's a queer world, ain't it?"

BACK HOME STUFF.

Having been a country kid, this correspondent is a softy when it comes to things with a rural flavor. Which is why he is now the proud possessor (of all things!) of a nifty red and black two-passenger sleigh, with curve dashboard, ornamental brass work and even SPRINGS which came only on the deluxe models. It's right out of the David Harum era. We saw it on the lawn at an auction in front of the Presbymouth Church, Milford, and were so outraged when the highest bid was $4 that we plunged with a five spot and took it home where we shall varnish it, slick it up and hope for a sleigh ride next winter. Anybody got a good carriage horse cheap?

A two-seater sleigh right out of Currier and Ives, a closed private cabriolet and two buggies with the fringe on top, all kept in pretty good shape in Charlie Majer's barn went for about fifteen and six dollars respectively, and if our barn were bigger they would be in it now.

Cotton Corners

By TRUMAN TWILL

Dear Nephew: I will never learn to keep out of other people's affairs. Just when I think that at last I have reformed, I blunder into the thing again.

I mean the trap fixed up to look like a village covered cottage. It could be a happy home, except for one thing. The man and woman who live there fight all the time. Every neighborhood has one of these setups.

Every neighborhood also has a fool with good intentions who can be tricked into trying to do something about it. That is where your Uncle George comes into the picture, with his ears flapping.

The Miller boy came home from the war just before Christmas and married a girl he met while he was in the Army. She was from some little town in Pennsylvania. We made a lot of fuss over them here at the Corners.

They moved into a nice house on the Miller place—the old man built it just before he died late in the 30's and Mrs. Miller lived there until she died in 1944. We wished them well.

In February it began to be common talk that they weren't getting along. Before long the talk became fact. They were fighting in public and in private. The house stands back from the road 50 yards, but even at that distance pedestrians could hear the yelling.

To get to the point, I was urged by various persons with more sympathy than sense to butt into the situation. Young Mrs. Miller went away and stayed a couple of weeks early in March, and it looked like a separation was in the wind. When she came back, things were no better. So yesterday I happened to be going by their place and stopped in to drop some pearls of wisdom. I thought I was being mighty slick and smooth about it.

Do you know what happened? Sure you do. They strung me along and I expanded, and then let me expand and one thing led to another. Then they pounced on me. They called me a silly old man who had been put up to the job by a lot of female busybodies. They told me that they didn't hold it against me for being weak in the head but that I could tell the busybodies it was nobody's business but theirs, Mr. and Mrs. Miller, how they got along and that as a matter of fact they were getting along fine and if they acted sore once in a while that was no sign that they were having any trouble. They liked it that way, they ssid.

I got out as fast as I could and haven't mentioned it to anybody but you. Husbands and wives who fight are one thing or the other—either people who never are going to get along or people who enjoy fighting. In either case there's nothing anyone can do, all of which I have known for most of my lifetime but keep forgetting. This is all I have to report from the Corners at this time. Your Uncle George is a big a fool as he always thought he was and just been reminded of it again. Incidentally it happened on April Fool's day, which was appropriate wasn't it?

He Is Risen

A Sermonette

BY REV. J. B. HOLLOWAY

Pastor of Trinity Baptist Church

1 Cor. 15:1-22

Text: "He is not here: for He is risen, as He said". Matt. 28:6.

THE resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead is the most significant event in all history. Time is measured from His birth, "Before Christ" (B.C.) and "The Year Of Our Lord", (anno domini, A.D.), but this would not be true had not subsequent events proven Him to be the very Son of God. Christian groups around the world and through the ages have laid great stress upon the crucifixtion of Christ as the essential act by which the redemption of the race was made possible. But Calvary would have marked merely the spot where another martyr died for a worthy ideal and would have been forgotten shortly had not Christ manifested His divine power by breaking asunder the bonds of death and emerging triumphantly from the grave.

When the disciples sadly departed from the tomb at the going down of the sun on that first Good Friday, they left it doubly secure with a Roman seal affixed and a cordon of soldiers stationed as sentinels to keep watch. They returned to their homes with downcast spirits and blasted hopes for this was He in whom they had placed such confidence that in fulfillment of prophecy He would redeem Israel. What joy must have flooded their souls after the long vigil when at dawn on the third day they found the sepulchre empty while an angelic messenger stood by to give reassurance that He was not there but had risen as He said.

In the fact of Christ's resurrection lies our imperishable hope of immortality. Because He lives, we, too, shall live. If He had not risen, then our faith would be dead and our preaching in vain. Jesus recognized the supreme importance of this event in God's plan of redemption for all men and, therefore, took special precaution to prove His bodily resurrection beyond any shadow of doubt that the record might be clear. We have not only the valid word of many eye witnesses that Jesus arose from the dead, but millions now living also bear eloquent testimony to that fact because He lives in their hearts as He reigns on high.

Bazaar Is New Feature of Fine Arts Day Here

NEW in the "list of attractions" for the annual community fine arts day festival to be sponsored May 7 by the Marion County Federation of Women's Clubs, will be the bazaar featuring handmade and homemade articles.

Each member of the federation is asked to contribute to the bazaar. The articles will be sold, the proceeds to be used to purchase a spinet piano for the meeting room at the Federation Home. Suggestions for the bazaar include stuffed toys, aprons, pot holders, towels, place mats, blanket protectors, booties, sweaters, mittens, bonnets, scarves, pinafores, painted trays, pictures, boxes, place cards, homemade butter, jams, pickles, candy, canned fruit, vegetables, bread or other useable articles of food or for wear.

The main feature of the antique display will be their counterpart in modern design. It has been suggested that clubs work this out among the membership with the idea that an antique brooch or piece of silverware belonging to one member could be duplicated in a modern design by another.

Original musical manuscripts also are requested. These do not need to be the compositions of local persons but must be in the original manuscript form.

Mrs. Joseph Yanrutel is chairman in charge of the bazaar, Mrs. Lewis Ashworth the antique display and Mrs. Clarence L. Rutherford the music. The festival, which is open to the public will be held during the afternoon and evening at the Federation Home.

SENATORS URGE FLAT LEAVE PAY FOR GI'S

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 20—Four senators sought today to settle the question of military terminal leave pay for discharged enlisted men and women with flat payments of $200 to those who served overseas and $100 to those who did not.

Senators Johnson (D-Colo.), Maybank (D-SC), McFarland (D-Ariz.) and Chavez (D-NM) introduced a joint bill which would:

Make the payments to all who served six or more months since Aug. 27, 1940, were honorably discharged, and received less than 30 days a year in furloughs.

Provide they could obtain the money simply by showing their discharge certificates at any naval station, Army finance or recruiting office.

Give enlisted men and women still in the service terminal pay on the basis of two and a half days for each month of service less furlough time actually received.

Authors of the bill explained yesterday it was intended to simplify war and navy department bookkeeping, which under other proposals would require examination of millions of service records.

A bill scheduled for house action May 13 would give discharged enlisted personnel the same terminal leave benefits as officers receive. This consists of pay for all unexpired furlough time up to 120 days, regardless of whether the service was overseas or domestic.

Capacity Audience Set As Goal for Next Concert Series Here

Marion Group Plans Ticket Sale Campaign for Next Winter.

A "capacity audience" is the goal of the Marion Community Concert association whose members will launch their 1946-47 membership campaign Monday and continue through Saturday, April 27. In keeping with the policy of the Columbia Concert Series, under whose auspices the concert programs are presented, the membership drive will last only one week and no tickets will be available after the close of the drive nor at the time the concerts are presented.

Artists who will appear on next years programs will be selected by the local committee at the close of the membership drive week and the selections will be made according to the amount of money available from the membership dues.

To Open Headquarters

The campaign will be launched with a dinner Monday evening at 7 o'clock in the Marion clubroom at Hotel Harding. More than 100 workers have made reservations for the affair. Headquarters for the week will be at the H. Schaffner Co. store and a telephone listed as the Marion Community Concert Association.

The gratifying success of the 1945-46 concert season which brought top-ranking artist James Melton here, and the generous and enthusiastic support of the nearly 1,000 membership holders prompted the general committee to set their goal higher this year and aim for a "capacity audience." Requests have already been made for tickets for the forthcoming series. The season closed recently with the presentation of the Fox-hold Ballet and the remaining number on the three - number series was Carroll Glenn, violinist. Memberships sold last year numbered 970.

List of Artists

The Community Concert service list among its artists Lily Pons, Badu Sayao, James Melton, Nino Martini of the Metropolitan Opera Co., Rudolph Serkin, Eugene List, husband of Carroll Glenn, Constance Keene, pianists, Jascha Heifetz, Yehudi Menuhin, Adolf Busch, violinists, the Platoff Don Cossack Russian Chorus and Dancers, the Trapp Family singers, the Columbia Grand Opera Quartet, the St. Louis Symphonetta and many other world-renowned entertainers. To be heard for the first time in concert performances this year will be Father Flanagan's Boys' Town Choir also booked by the Columbia Concerts, Inc.

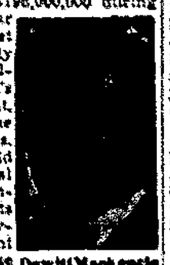
Red-Polish Pact Points To Soviet Rule in Europe

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

Out of Warsaw comes an unpretentious news item which is lost among the more sensational current headlines but which really represents one of the most significant developments of the moment.

This is the disclosure of the scope of the new Russo-Polish commercial agreement. It provides for exchanges of commodities equivalent to $196,000,000 during the coming year and the Soviet Union probably will get virtually all Poland's big coal output, running to some 48,000,000 tons. Here it should be said that coal in chaotic Europe is worth its weight in anything you want to name these days.



Dewitt Mackenzie

And why is this trade agreement significant? Because it's one of the main arches in the great economic structure which Russia has been quietly but speedily building in eastern Europe and which now is towering high enough to cast a long shadow. The foundations were well laid months ago.

Moscow Steps In

Moscow is taking over—has taken over, for the most part—the vast economic prize which Hitler threw away when he decided to try to enslave Europe by force. The Nazi dictator had all of central and eastern Europe and the Balkan peninsula right in the palm of his hand economically, and that gave him political domination as well. Russia is demonstrating how it should have been done.

How do America and Britain, with their great trade interests, like this development? Well, less than a little. As a matter of fact the western Allies six months ago protested to Moscow against its proposed trade pacts with Rumania, Bulgaria and Hungary, on the grounds that it wasn't right for one ally to conclude agreements with enemy countries before the other Allies had made peace with them. That protest still bangs fire but meantime Moscow has been making economic hay.

Hitler's politico-economic domination was based on the scheme of keeping this vast territory mainly agricultural to provide Germany with foodstuffs while absorbing the manufactured products of the fatherland. He had so far succeeded in perfecting this program that when I toured the Balkans just before the war he was compelling them to accept anything that Germany wished to unload in exchange for agricultural products. Hitler was dumping outmoded armaments and other unwanted supplies wholesale. He had even forced the Greeks to take 100,000 mouth-organs.

Course Not Clear

Just what economic program the Russians intend to pursue isn't wholly clear as yet. However, we shouldn't fail to note that Moscow's new five year plan complements the developments in central Europe and the Balkans.

The first task is said to be restoration and development of heavy industry—iron, steel, fuel, electricity, machine tools and so on. The huge amount of coal which Russia will receive from Poland under the new pact fits into this picture.

The Soviet in previous five year plans has demonstrated the titanic industrial development which it is capable of achieving in a short time. On past records it may not be long before Russian industry is capable of meeting the demands of its new politico-economic empire.
